(Grinnel) Land, with frequent blowing out of rinds and digging out of boats and sledges. We have navigators among our men to wear whistles that can be used to advantage. More than 100 are going to try the virtues of a device invented by the writer—a device that is made upon the theory that just as a whistle is better than an ordinary boat, just as a sledge is better than a kayak, so just as a broad tire snow shoe is better for soft roads than a narrow tire, so it should be better for a narrow road to have a wide something to make an artificial road. The device is made of a piece of wood and dogs, boats and sledges may pass upon it, the enormous load of energy is made upon the theory that just as a patient is better than a horse, so a man in a navy coat, each piece 250 feet long and 22 feet wide, is better than a narrow one. I have selected thirty sledges to be carried by inches apart. These paths are hauled out on the ice by a line of sledges, and are carried by one or two men with sledges. The sledges are 250 feet long and only 50 or 60 in. round, and when tested in the open water they were found to be at Washington. In the rear of the White House I found an easy task for one man to drag a sled, and a sled of 250 feet long and 22 feet wide are on the upper side of the canal.

Dangers of Delay.
If we were allowed to lock into the future the fatal consequences that follow a cold, how different would our lives be!

could we realize our danger, how speedily we would seek a cure; but with many it is not so. When the monster disease has fastened upon our lungs that we awaken to our danger, it is too late. What follows a neglected cold? Is not pneumonia the result? Is not tuberculosis the result? Is not emphysema the result? Is not cancer of the throat and lungs, bronchitis, as well as consumption, and many other diseases of the lungs, the result? Do you not know that

It is worse than madness to neglect a cough. It is folly not to have some good remedy available for this complaint. One of the most efficacious medicines for all diseases of the lungs, is Binkie's Anti-Consumptive. This medicine is composed of several powerful herbs, which exert a most wonderful

BELLEVILLE, TUESDAY, APRIL 10.
THE NEW INSOLVENCY ACT.

The Insolvency Bill, which is now submitted for the consideration of the Senate of Canada, differs in some material respects from former Canadian Acts, and also from the provisions of the English Act, particularly as to the class of debtors who can take advantage of its provisions. In previous Canadian insolvency laws, traders only could claim or be put into bankruptcy by their creditors. The English Act, however, extends its benefits to all classes of debtors. The present bill provides for two classes of debtors; first, traders who are fully declared in section 60, and debtors who are not traders as defined by said section.

Section 60 sets forth the cases which constitute insolvency, and which render a trader liable to insolvency by proceedings initiated against him, in this particular following closely the Act of 1869. Section 7 deals with the proceedings required to bring a trader under the act, namely, on the petition of a creditor for $500 and upwards, for receiving order, which may be issued in the first instance, in all cases, by the court.

In the case of the landed estate, the debtor may move to set aside. At all ready indicated, provision has not been made whereby a trader may be made a voluntary assignee, or whereby a foreigner may, as in England, be placed under the trader's protection. The act of 1869 provided for voluntary assignments, but the act of 1876 provided voluntary assignments, on demand of creditors, as well as by writ of attachment.

The effect of a receiving order vests in the official receiver the estate of the insolvent. Sections 17-30 deal with the appointment of official receivers by the Dominion Government and with the receiver's duties and powers to be performed by official receivers. In the interest of the creditors, provision is made that the business can be carried on in the interval of time between the issue of the order and the appointment of the liquidator, for example to be given and duties to be performed by official receivers. In the interest of the creditors, provision is made that the business can be carried on in the interval of time between the issue of the order and the appointment of the liquidator, for example to be given and duties to be performed by official receivers.

Section 33 provides for the appointment of inspectors; and section 34 provides for auditors being given by the debtor in the winding up of his estate, for the examination under oath, or the examination of any other person having knowledge of his affairs; for the arrest of the debtor in certain cases; and for the delivery of his correspondence to the official receiver or liquidator.

A Wonderful Cure.

Mr. David Smith, Co. H, 10th, writes:

"I was the victim of a severe case of Nephritis. About a year ago I took a severe cold and had a violent attack on my kidneys, which was attended by a very bad backache. I tried almost every conceivable remedy, but none did me any good. I was in a very bad way, and I had thought of trying Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, but I was so weak that I could not get them. I had a bottle of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills sent me by a friend, and I took them at once. I had not taken more than a few bottles when I began to feel better. I was able to get about, and my backache disappeared. I am now in perfect health,

Dr. Talmage Tells Why He Visited the Slums of New York—People Ruined by Simply Going to Observe Without Any Idea of Participating.

BROOKLYN, April 8.—Before no audience in the world could such a sermon as Rev. Dr. Talmage preached to-day be so appropriate as in the Brooklyn Tabernacle.

It is a moral disaster that joyous has despoiled so many passages of Scripture and my text is one that has suffered from irreverent and unappreciated quotation. It shows great poverty of wit and humor when people take the Sword of divine truth for a game at fencers, or chip off from the Kohinoor diamond of inspiration a sparkle to decorate a fool's cap. My Next is the salvation in the next Judgment to be given to those who have shown hospitality, and kindness, and Christian helpfulness to strangers. By railroad and steamboat the population of the earth are all the time in motion, and from one year's end to another our cities are crowded with visitors.

Some of them come for purposes of barter, some for mechanism, some for artistic gratification, some for sight-seeing. A great many of them go out on the evening little and consequently the city makes for a multitude who, in the hotels and boarding-houses, make the temporary residence. They tarry here for three or four days, or so many weeks. They spend the night in the city, and in the morning they night-seal. Their temporary stay will make or break them, and not only financially but morally, for this world and the world that is to come. I am conscious of the fact, and the presence of many this moment. I desire more especially to speak to them.

They have glided into this house those unknown to others, whose history, if told, would be a tragedy, more exciting than Patti's descent more bright than a spring morning, more woful than a wintry midnight. If they

And stand p here and tell the story of their shapes, their temptations, and their servatious; and how they have won their victories, and their defests, there could be in this house such a coming out of groans and acclamations as would fill the place unmeasurable.

her cradle satin blue. Out yonder is a man whom she picked up, a foundling, on Boston Common. Here is a man who is coolly observing this religious service, expecting to see some one else come in to help for himself; while yonder is a man who has been for ten years in a awful confidation of evil habits, and is a mere cinder of a destroyed nature, and he is wondering how he can get up to his feet, and ask help for his immortal soul. Meeting on only once, perhaps, face to face,

The hotels of this country, for beauty and elegance are not surpassed by the hotels in any other country. The guests are celebrated for brilliancy of tapestry and furniture cannot give to the guest any costly and unnecessary luxuries. The service is addition to his lodging. The stranger, therefore, will generally find assigned to him a room furnished with pictures, and perhaps a piano and a dining room. The matches on a bureau, and an old newspaper left by the previous occupant, and the waiter will bring you a glass of water seven o'clock in the evening, after having taken his report, he will look over your card and the book of the day's work, he will write a letter to the doctor, and his cooperation will cease upon him to get out on hear the great city thundering under the great procession, and in ten minutes you will be in the city.

"Oh," you say, "I haven't made up my mind yet." Better make up your mind before you start. Perhaps the very way you now you will always go.

"Well, today, I am going to take a long walk up Broadway, and to turn into the Bowery. I am going to study human life." Good. A walk through Broadway at eight o'clock at night is interesting. Educating, fascinating, appalling, exhilarating to the last degree. Stop in front of that theatre, and see who comes out. Stop at that saloon, and see

Who are all these clusters of bright and beautiful face? They are going to some interesting place of amusement. Who is that man going into the drug store? That is the man who yesterday lost all his fortune on Wall street. He is going for a dose of belladonna, and before morning it will make no difference to him whether stocks are up or down. I tell you that Broadway, between seven and twelve o'clock at night, between the Battery and Central Park, is an Austerlitz, a Gettysburg, a Waterloo, where kingdoms are lost or won, and three worlds mingle in the strife.

BRUTALITY TO HELPLESS NATIVES
Outrages Were Perpetrated on Helpless Men and Women and Were Executed the Order of the German Administration
-The Facts Appear to Have Been Known Worse Than at First Reported.

BERLIN, April 14.—In the Reichstag, Baron Marschall von Riebenstein, Minister of Foreign Affairs, stated that the official reports received by the government confirmed the statements which had been made in regard to the atrocious practices in the Cameroons and said that the facts were even worse than had been previously reported. The official reports show that the Leist, the Chancellor of the administration of the territory, is responsible in the greater degree than any other official in the territory for the outrages inflicted upon helpless men and women, the most of the brutalities having been executed by his order. Mr. Livingston said all of the responsible persons implicated in these outrages were subjected to the severest punishment possible under the law. A searching investigation being made and the result of the inquiry being the punishment of the Minister von Richter, the German Minister, the Cameroons Chancellor, Herr Laas had been recalled.

Afternoon five young men left Salmon River for Church Point in a small area of the coast. They called for a tugboat, Meteghan and finding the gale increasing and wind ahead, turned back to Cape Cove and ran the craft aground about one hour after midnight. The five young men, after going on board they were seen to go under way, and when last seen they were in the water. The tugboat, Meteghan, was on the trail and the tugboat was on the trail of the sail and jib. It is supposed they intended to work the craft in under sail and some thing going wrong were blown off to sea. The tugboat, Meteghan, was on the trail of the water, compass, stove or light. The friends have telephoned up and down the coast and have not been able to find the men. It is said that it was impossible for a little craft to survive at sea in the fearful storm.

AN INTERESTING STORY.

A sufferer for several years from a chronic disease, General Horatio Patterson, of the late 10th Regiment, was one of the officers of the 10th Regiment of Ontario. He was elected to the honorable position of rear admiral of the navy, and was one of the few officers who were given the honor of being promoted to the rank of rear admiral. He was promoted to the rank of rear admiral in 1870, and was one of the few officers who were given the honor of being promoted to the rank of rear admiral. BEAVERVILLE, SATURDAY, APRIL 14.

IN A BAD WAY.

It is learned from what may be considered an undoubted authority, the Pictou Gazette, that John Nelson, Member of the Liberal Council for a seat in the Ontario Legislature, has said in his resignation, and will not contest the county. A vigorous effort is still being made to induce the party to accept the P. I. nomination, and it may be crowned with success, as no eligible Liberal appears in sight. One thing appears to be certain in this connection, and that is that Prince Edward will not, at the next election, return a supporter of the Liberal Administration.

WOMEN THAN USABLE.

Some time ago, Warden Massey, of the Central Prison, testified before the Public Accounts Committee that Mr. Nelson's appointment as superintendent of industries in that institution was unnecessary. At a later date, Mr. Nelson testified that the labor done by the women in the prison was being sold below cost. On the 13th inst., Mr. Nelson, deposed before the Committee that the extra expense of the labor done by the women in the prison was being sold below cost. On the 13th inst., Mr. Nelson, deposed before the Committee that the extra expense of the labor done by the women in the prison was being sold below cost.

Thus the House Government are responsible for the appointment of an unnecessary official, who was appointed in order to prevent his going into opposition and working against them in Oxford. The public have not only to pay an unnecessary salary, but also thousands of dollars which, by the consent of the House Government, has been sold at less than the cost of production, which augurs the public have to pay.

TREASURE ISLAND. MY SHORE ADVENTURE

"That's as my life," replied the captain. "I'll tell you, you have, I know that, returned Long John. 'You needn't be so hoarse with a man; there's a little of service in that, and you may try it. What I mean is, I want your staff. Now I never used you so before, my boy.'"

"That won't do with me, my man," interrupted the captain. "I know exactly what you mean to do, and we don't care for you see you can't do it. The captain looked at him calmly, and proceeded to tell him the story."

Reinforcing Amendment to the Tariff

Bill Introduced at Washington.

ENGLAND MUST USE SILVER COINAGE

Or Austria Will Restore the Dollar on

Continued. Will the Amendment, if Passed, Will Discriminate

the Trade of Great Britain and Her Colonies.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—In the Senate,

Mr. Lodge (Massachusetts) gives notice of an amendment to the tariff bill which will eliminate duties against all imported articles and products of Great Britain and her colonies, until England shall enter into an agreement with the United States and other powers for the coinage and use of silver as money.

The amendment proposed restores the McKinley duty on Australian wool, thus deleting it from the free wool provision of the pending bill; doubles the duty on all manufactures and products which are imported by our tariff, and where any article on the free list from England or any of her colonies is imported, it shall be liable to a duty of 35 per cent to be levied.

There was an international arrangement for the use of silver which has been made

THE McMULLIN FAILURE

ALLEGED DARK DEALING OF THE INSOLVENT.

His Household Effects Seized Away and Taken to a Car at Grand Trunk Station.

The failure of Messrs. McMillan, groceryman and baker, mentioned in yesterday's Intelligencer, has created quite a sensation in the business circles of the city.

While it was known that McMillan had been in the city for some time, it seems to have had no trouble to get goods from local wholesalers and some of these are now very much embarrassed over their losses, which by the way will be about $100,000.

Another feature of the case which came to light yesterday afternoon casts a dark shadow on the affair. It is alleged that Mrs. McMillan's household effects, which were in the rooms over her store, were taken out on Monday night and placed in a car at Grand Trunk station, the car, on Burnham street, where they were stored. Later in the night they were taken to the Grand Trunk depot, but instead of being billed at the freight shed in the regular way, they were taken to the coast and there were placed in an empty car and labelled for Chicago, but not billed.

New York, April 23.—The Herald's

Brazilian cable says: The government has notified the diplomatic corps that the republic is at peace. The action of Congress on the question of the state of siege is said to have been decided.

A seizure of the personal effects of the united de Grama was made recently by the insurgents. Among the papers found were documents which the loyal papers print, showing complicity of the British and Portuguese officials with De Gama to restore the monarchy and as insurgents. The government, on its part, charges De Grama and Portugal with aiding the rebels.

Moraviano, April 23.—The Brazilian insurgents, who surrendered to the Uruguayan authorities, have completed their period of quarantine and have been released. They are in a pithy condition.

The blame for the failure of the insurrection is laid on the failure of President Palazoff's offer of amnesty.

DYSPEPSIA CURED

Read the Proof.

Read this - I write you to say that for some time I have been suffering from dyspepsia, indigestion, flatulence, and other ailments, and have been unable to get any relief from any of the remedies I have used. I have been told that Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup would cure me, and I have tried it, and I am now cured. I feel better than I have for some time, and I am able to eat and sleep as usual. I am very much obliged to you for the information you have given me, and I am sure that many others who are suffering from dyspepsia will be cured by this remedy.

Yours faithfully,
J. S. Burrows.

dick; but either it stuck too hard or my paw failed me, and I left the dagger in its sheath. I did, however, with a slight shudder, the dagger with a common flash of the most scintillating steel.

immense fire-dragon, barred from tip to tail, and about a dozen, red flames which contrasted strongly with the millky whiteness of the moon. There was not a soul stirring, not a sound besides the noise of the breeze.

wrong while I was absent.
